Rock Delays Sewer Extension

Rock has slowed the installation of close to 1,000 feet of sewer line on Ardwell Ave. in the north end of Sidney.

The Ardwell extension is one of several sewer extension projects in various parts of the village which were started last week by the Victoria firm of Fletcher and Helgeson Ltd. under a $35,857 contract awarded last fall.

Installation of the Ardwell Ave. line will continue soon when blasting equipment is brought in, a village spokesman said.

Sewer lines will also be extended on Amelia Ave., Almond St., Malvern and Henry Avenues to the Patricia Bay highway, and Oakville Ave. between Fifth and Sixth Streets.

STANDING OVATION FOR ALAN SPOONER MONDAY

—After Two Years' Service

Retiring president of Sanscha A. R. Spooner, received a standing ovation on Monday evening when he handed over the chair to his successor, F. H. Minns.

Mr. Spooner had held office for two years and the retired banker brought to the community centre an optimistic note from the day he assumed the chair.

Mr. Spooner gave a brief analysis of the past year's operation.

He referred to the co-operation of the service clubs and the assistance provided by Sidney Rotary Club and the Kinsmen Club of Sidney.

He recalled that the park and hall groups had amalgamated this year. "Running both is the responsibility of Sanscha, now," he noted.

The president referred to the decision early last year to place the park in trust for the people of Sidney and North Saanich. By this gesture both park and hall will be in trust and administered by the community for its own benefit. Proposal was made and carried out in order to ensure that the land could not be readily acquired or sold.

The retiring president added a warning.

"For running the grounds, he told the meeting, 'Sanscha received no money. It is impossible to maintain adequate playing facilities without support,' he averred.

Mr. Spooner expressed regret that his directorate had been unable to reach agreement with the Royal Canadian Legion regarding the maintenance of the "sacred plot of ground" at the cairn.

Speaking of the hall rentals, Mr. Spooner warned the meeting that until such time as there remains no debt on the hall a charge will be made for its use.

Conventions using the hall had brought additional revenue to the district he recalled. He also spoke of various members who had left the community association during the year.

Handing over his chair to Mr. Minns, the retiring president observed that there is an element of regret in doing something for the last time, while very conscious that it is for the last time.

Sanscha Names Minns As Spooner Bows Out Of Chair

Frank Minns, Sidney automobile dealer and an active community worker for years, has been named president of the Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association. Mr. Minns assumes the chair vacated by A. R. Spooner, retired banker, who had held office for two years.

The change was made at the annual meeting on Monday evening. Meeting drew representatives of almost every organization in the community.

Also elected were the following board members, R. O. Bull, vice-president; T. A. Aiers, second vice-president and treasurer; J. H. LaRue, third vice-president; Mrs. J. W. Bond, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Vivian Cowan, special events secretary.

Directors are Mrs. O. Thomas, Mrs. W. W. Gardner, Mrs. J. G.

BASKETBALL FINALS AT MT. NEWTON AT WEEK-END

After reconsidering an earlier decision, Saanich school board on Monday gave permission to Saanich Peninsula Basketball League to use the gymnasium of Mount Newton junior secondary school for the league finals this Friday and Saturday, Feb. 4 and 5.

The league last week asked board approval to use either Clarendon or Mount Newton auditoriums for the two-day jumboree, but the request was turned down when the board received a complaint that the last play-offs held at Clarendon were inadequately supervised.

The league protested and won its case Monday at a special meeting with school board representatives.

Approximately 200 youngsters between the ages of nine and 15 years will be playing in the finals. They constitute 10 teams of the league at Sidney, Brentwood Bay, Saanichton and Courville Bay.

The play-offs will be opened at Mount Newton at 6:30 p.m. Friday by Councilor Margaret Sall of Central Saanich.

The tourney is known as a "double loss" tournament. Winning teams in the various age groups, both boys and girls, will advance to Vancouver Island finals later this month. Winners of the Island tournament.

Representative

Reeve R. Gordon Lee was appointed Central Saanich delegate to the new capital city regional board by council on Tuesday. Alternate delegate will be Councilor C. W. Mollard.

SYMPHONY Concert Friday At School

Friday evening will spell a new departure for concertgoers on Saanich Peninsula.

At 8:30 p.m. The Victoria Symphony Orchestra will present a concert in North Saanich secondary school.

It will be the first time the 70-piece orchestra has played at the school auditorium. In the past only hall used has been Sanscha.

Concert will feature Frederic Balazs, from Tucson, as guest conductor.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION?

Rejection Of Water Rights Application No Surprise

Rejection of Central Saanich waterworks district's application to have water rights to Elk Lake removed from Victoria and revert to the Crown came as no surprise to municipal water officials.

Spokesman for the water board said this week that a refusal of the application had been anticipated.

Legislative action may be the next step in the dispute between the city and Central Saanich. Saanich MLA

John D. Tisdalle on Tuesday evening asked Water Resources Minister Ray Wiliston to amend the act of 1873 to return Elk Lake water rights to the Crown. Mr. Tisdalle promised to take the case before the House if the application was refused when he met with representatives of Central Saanich and other peninsula water boards several weeks ago.

Cheques returned

Central Saanich has asked the city to renew a contract that expired in 1961 by which Victoria sold water from Elk Lake to the municipality for 1 1/2 cents per 1,000 gallons. City council is considering increasing the charge to five cents per 1,000 gallons, a price that has been termed "completely out of reach" by Central Saanich. Cheques sent by Central Saanich for the water have been returned each year since 1961 by the city.

Refusal of the application was based on the findings of a board of investigation set up in 1914, said H. D. DeBeek, provincial comptroller of water rights.

Pool Approval Rescinded By Central Saanich Council

—Sent Back To Committee

Faced with a petition signed by 527 ratepayers and an apparent lack of unanimity among member organizations of the centennial committee, Central Saanich council on Tuesday evening rescinded its earlier approval of a swimming pool as a centennial project.

Council handed the controversial question back to the centennial committee for reconsideration, to be resubmitted to council if the local organizations and ratepayers in general favor the pool.

If stronger support for the swimming pool project cannot be gained, the committee is instructed to submit an alternate proposal to cost not more than the combined municipal and senior government centennial grants.

The petition signed by 527 ratepayers was presented to council by William Taylor, 2973 McIntyre Road.

OVERFLOW CROWD

Tuesday's meeting was attended by an overflow crowd, probably the largest turnout for a council meeting in the new municipal office. Number of petitioners unable to find seats observed the proceedings from the hallway.

Motion to rescind earlier approval

The motion was seconded by Councilor Phillip Benn who said: "When the first motion was approved it was stated that it must have the unanimous support of the municipality. This has obviously not been the case."

"Before we thought the centennial committee had the support of the organizations," Coun. Mitchell said. "It is too bad they didn't."

Coun. Mitchell's motion to rescind the earlier approval of the project was adopted unanimously.

ASK FOR BALLOT

Petitions presented by Mr. Taylor called on council to reconsider its decision and "in a democratic manner" have the question settled by ballot.

Also read to the meeting was a similar petition presented last week to Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell and signed by 54 ratepayers. Mr. Campbell in his reply to the petitioners said approval or rejection of the centennial project was entirely the responsibility of Central Saanich council and his department has no legislative authority to intervene. He sent a copy of the petition and his reply to Reeve Lee.

PUBLIC MEETINGS

"As a result of this controversy I think the centennial committee will hold public meetings," Coun. Benn said. "Noting that the committee has spent many hours drawing up the proposal, he observed: 'They couldn't get a reaction for a year and a half. It is unfortunate that' ... Continued on Page Four

STATEMENT SHOWS HALL COST BALANCED BY FEES

Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall paid for itself during the past year.

On Monday evening Treasurer T. A. Aiers presented the annual financial statement of the association. He drew attention to the fact that the hall rentals proved slightly higher than the costs of operation.

Revenue derived from the rentals amounted to $2,854. Cost of operating the hall, heat, light, water, maintenance supplies and insurance as well as the cost of cleaning and services amounted to $2,455.46. Margin of profit was $388.54.

Total revenue, in cash and kind, was $5,711.20, with a net revenue of $5,119.96, after expenses.

Total value of Sanscha Hall and equipment is listed at $57,385.25, after depreciation.

Biggest liability is represented by the five per cent notes due on March 1, 1968. These total $7,161.46.

Mr. Aiers also presented the auditor's report, prepared by B. W. W. Clowes. The report expressed the auditor's comments on various aspects of the accounting. It was free of criticism of the accounting system.

The report referred to the purchase of new furnace during the past year. By gaining accommodation from the bank Sanscha had saved between $200 and $300 on interest for the purchase of the heating plant.

Mr. Aiers was warmly commended by retiring president A. R. Spooner, who noted that the treasurer's function was a "miserable job for 365 days a year."

Big Step For Sidney Jaycees Form Unit At William Head Institution

The local Jaycees will present a charter to a new unit they have sponsored at William Head minimum security prison.

Sidney Jaycee President W. J. Knowles said the new unit, to be known as the Bayview Junior Chamber of Commerce, sets a number of "firsts."

It is the first Jaycee unit in an institution of this kind in Canada, although a junior chamber is located at the B.C. Penitentiary at New Westminster.

It is also believed that this is the first time any junior chamber in the world has extended to form another unit when the parent body is less than one year old itself. The Sidney chamber was formed last spring.

Large membership

To a degree, it is a case of the tail wagging the dog as the new Bayview chamber has a larger membership than the Sidney unit. The Bayview unit has 38 members, representing 30 per cent of the inmates of William Head Institution, while the Sidney unit has only 20 members.

The Bayview junior chamber will be the second largest in membership on Vancouver Island; only the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce has more members.

Up to 130 members, visiting Jaycees and special guests are expected to attend the ceremony. All Vancouver Island units will be represented, as well as many lower mainland and interior units.

SPECIAL GUESTS

Special guests will include Alf Dunn, Jaycee provincial vice-president in charge of operations, who will present the charter to the Bayview chamber; Steen Christensen, national chairman of membership and extension, from Powell River; Bert Day, a provincial vice-president, from Port Moody; and Grant Johnstone, Vancouver Island district president.

Groundwork leading to the charter of the prison junior chamber was laid over the past few months largely by Mr. Knowles and Sidney Jaycee vice-president Bill Deann after permission was first obtained from administrators of William Head Institution.

Who Drove That Nail Into Tree?

Jack Silvey, one of the Island's experienced fallers, has been at home with his wife and family at Galiano from his work at Powell River.

He was falling a huge arbutus tree on the Farmhouse Inn land recently for L. T. Bellhouse, when his power saw hit a large nail. He immediately stopped the saw and had to cut around the nail, deeply imbedded in the tree.

Upon counting the rings in order to determine the age of the tree, they reached the age of 60 years. As this is a round nail, a type not in common use until around the turn of the century, it was decided that someone living there long before the Bellhouses bought this land, must have driven it into the tree.

Jack Silvey was not upset about the little damage done to his saw when he was only interested in discover who put the nail in the tree!

Nash will cover financial statements and their interpretation at the second lecture; the position of bonds, preferreds and common shares in a portfolio will be the subject of the third class, instructed by Robert Gray, and for the fourth and final class, Raymond West will discuss investment management and portfolios.

New Ferry For Vesuvius-Crofton Run

Hearing will be held at 8 p.m.

He Has Done More Than Any Other

Former director of Sanscha came in for a hearty pat on the back on Monday evening. Retiring president spoke of the resignation of Andrew Bons during the past year.

"He has probably done more for this hall and this association than any other single resident," said A. R. Spooner. "I hope that he's just taking a six-month holiday and that he will be back with us again."

Recall One Job As They Face New One

Sanscha Susties came in for a warm reception on Monday evening when Mrs. O. Thomas presented a year's report of the group's activities to Sanscha.

Highlight of the year was the paving of the car park, reported Mrs. Thomas.

She looked to the coming year, when she and her associates plan to put up the name on the community hall.

TELEPHONE POLES FELLED BY CAR

A Sidney man escaped injury in a "spectacular" accident on West Saanich Road south of Keating Cross Road on Friday evening.

Central Saanich police said Irvin Robinson, 16519 MacDonald Park Road, lost control of his car on a corner and knocked down several telephone poles. The old-model car was described as a new white-off.

Robinson pleaded guilty to impaired driving when he appeared in Central Saanich magistrate's court on Saturday. He was fined $300 and restricted to driving for business purposes only for two months.

The accident took place at 6:05 p.m. Police said Robinson was the sole occupant of the vehicle.

WACKY COMEDY AT GEM THIS WEEK

"Goodbye Charlie," a sophisticated comedy in which a woman-chasing rogue named Charlie is shot by an irate husband and re-incarnated as a beautiful young woman, will be featured at the Gem Theatre in Sidney on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Starred in the film are Tony Curtis, as a close friend of the late Charlie, Debbie Reynolds, as the re-incarnated Charlie, and Pat Boone as a wealthy young man who falls in love with the female Charlie not knowing that she was once a man, and a devilish one at that.

Sophia Loren and Marcello Mastroianni star in "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," which will be shown at the Gem on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

In this three-part film, Miss Loren plays a carefree call girl, a bored socialite and a perennially pregnant blackmarketeer. Filmed on location in Rome, Naples and Milan, the episodes run the social scale from lower to middle to upper class, each bound together by universal qualities of humour, humanity and compassion. The film was directed by Vittorio De Sica. It is adult entertainment only.

Julie Cox Reports

Teen Dances Draw Hundreds

Resume of the Sidney Teen Dance Club year was given on Monday evening to Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association.

Miss Julie Cox, president of Sidney Teens, addressed the association. Her report follows:

I would like to give a brief rundown of the activities of the Sidney Teen Dance Club since its inception in November, 1963.

During that period, a total of 47 dances has been held, with a live band hired for each dance. Band costs have risen, with the popularity of the dances, from a low $40 to a high of $100 for the last Christmas dance.

Of late, a local band has been given the most bookings.

Sidney Teens yearly memberships are set at $1.

Originally, a door charge of 40c for members and 60c for non-members was charged, but a year ago these rates were increased to 50c and 75c respectively to pay for the added band expenses and to increase our donation to Samscha. Originally $30 per dance was paid to Samscha, but was dropped by Samscha to $15 as it was intended to defray the expenses of the hall only.

ROCK CLUB TO JOIN B.C. ORGANIZATION

Members of the Sidney Rock Club at the recent January meeting approved a motion for the club to join the B.C. Federation of Lapidary Clubs.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD YOUNG ENTERTAINED BY INSTITUTE

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young, Central Saanich Road, were guests last Thursday evening on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary when members of the South Saanich Women's Institute gave a dinner in their honor in the Institute Hall, Keating.

Mrs. Young has been a member of the South Saanich Institute for many years and has held various offices. At present she holds the office of secretary.

Institute colors of green and gold predominated in the bowl of spring flowers which centred the table and also in the tall tapers which flanked them.

Following the dinner Mrs. P. Spek presented Mr. and Mrs. Young with a gift on behalf of the Institute.

An evening of bingo and social fellowship brought the occasion to a close.

Members and their husbands or other relatives present were: guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young; Mrs. R. E. Nimmo, Miss F. Hafer, G. Hafer, Mr. and Mrs. A. Doney, Mr. and Mrs. P. Spek, Herb

Young, Mr. and Mrs. W. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hafer, Mrs. G. Hansen, Mrs. M. Meiklejohn, Miss P. Meiklejohn, Mrs. F. M. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. C. Essery, Mr. and Mrs. W. Van Alstyne and Mr. and Mrs. L. Farrell.

WIT'S END by INDSOR

There is considerable concern these days about the growth of organized crime, and as a conscientious citizen I feel that it is my duty to expose a daring, and hitherto unsolved theft that occurred right here, in the heart of Deep Saanich. In fact, it took place a number of years ago now, on the premises of that august seat of learning, Brentwood College, and I am indebted to an old boy, D. K. Archibald of Inwood Drive, for the details of the dark deed.

In those far-off days the college kitchen was reigned over by a benign Chinese cook, and he had his work cut out to guard his domain from marauding boys on whom food had the same effect as catnip is said to have on cats.

SECURITY GUARD
To prevent this food napping the school authorities instituted a security system said to be modelled after that used to protect the gold at Fort Knox.

During the day there was always someone on duty in the kitchen, while at night, before going home, the cook went through an elaborate routine to secure the defences of his

Two Cows Are Big Producers Over Long Period

In the Jersey herd of P. B. Hoole and Sons, Saanichton, two cows have been issued production certificates. Dogwood Rondin Rhoda, 276110, very good, produced, in eight lactations, 69,213 pounds milk, 4,080 pounds fat. She is also a winner of a gold medal.

Dogwood Valiant Vedas 2, 308282, very good, produced, in 1,426 days, 2,359 pounds fat. Dogwood Generation Greta, 330425, very good, produced, in 1,278 days, 2,060 pounds fat, eligible for a ton-of-gold certificate.

To qualify for this award a cow must produce at least 2,000 pounds of fat in four consecutive years.

They knew he would, to get these fine boys some mince pies.

TRACED OUTLINE

No sooner was his back turned than the M.C. grabbed the padlock from the shelf, quickly traced its outline on a sheet of paper, and had it returned before the cook did likewise. After many expressions of mutual regard the pair left, happily munching on mince pies, and headed for the nearest hardware store. Here they quickly found and purchased a large black padlock, almost identical to the one used by the Establishment to protect its foodstuffs.

On the afternoon of the raid it was a comparatively simple matter, while those in the kitchen were busy roasting turkeys, for a hand to slip around the door and exchange the two padlocks. The tired Cook, eager to get home, never noticed the difference when he closed up that evening.

FOUR BIG BIRDS

Now, for the Master Criminal, came the risky part of the operation. At 10:30 that night, an hour at which prowling masters should have come to roost, and yet before the watchman could discover the substitution, he crept downstairs from the dormitories, opened his own padlock without any trouble, and in a matter of moments came staggering back from the pantry, weighed down with four of the mighty birds. He only paused long enough to relock the door, this time with the school's own padlock, before retreating upstairs, where some of his cronies waited to join him in an outside in feasts.

There you have the case solved, except that as the master mind has since gone straight, I was unable to obtain his name. The only thing I can't understand is why my friend Archibald keeps a large black padlock among his most cherished souvenirs.

RETURN TO SENDER

POSTAL STAFF OBSTRUCTS DELIVERY OF MAIL CHARGES SAANICHTON RESIDENT

Handing of mail through Victoria Post Office is inadequate, charges a Saanichton resident.

Roland Blackburn of 7993 West Saanich Road, has written to Victoria Postmaster sharply criticizing the inadequate information of his staff.

Mr. Blackburn's letter follows:

How Victoria Post Office employees, who must live in this area and be familiar with the names of its streets and various municipalities can say that there is "No Such Street" and "No Such Address" as the West Saanich Road, puzzles me.

So much so that I feel it is my duty to protest on behalf of many other residents of areas outside the Victoria Postal Area who are constantly having mail which should be delivered to them "returned to sender."

The uncompromising non-delivery of such letters is merely because the sender has written "Victoria" instead of "Saanichton" on the envelope. It does not matter if the correct name and street address has been given. The sin of sending it to the wrong postal district—Victoria—is apparently too great to be overlooked and the letter is stamped "Return to Sender—No Such Address." This in spite of it being obvious to anyone who can read where it should be delivered. Surely a Postal employee is required to know his local geography? Is it possible that a Federal Civil Servant living in this area has never heard of the words "Saanich" or "West Saanich Road?"

Because of this refusal to deliver mail with a perfectly understandable address on it, an important letter to the undersigned was delayed for a whole month. It contained Motor Vehicle licence application forms from the Provincial Government and would never have been delivered at all if not queries had not revealed the fatuous reason for its non-delivery. Because a clerk had addressed the envelope 7993 West Saanich Road, Victoria instead of Saanichton, Victoria Post Office stamped it "No such address—Return to sender."

It was returned to the Motor-Vehicle Branch and there it remained. No doubt many hundreds of residents who do not live in the Victoria postal area are wondering what happened to their 1966 motor vehicle licence application forms and other equally important letters. This may give them a clue.

Mail addressed to me at the correct street address has been sent all the way back to Eastern Canada and Britain merely because of that one unforgivable error of writing "Victoria" instead of "Saanichton." Postal employees at Victoria must know for whom they are intended. Condemning each one to be "returned to sender" smacks of something akin to deliberate obstructionism.

Changes Ahead

HISTORY threatens to repeat itself. For many years the provincial administration of Saanich Peninsula was closely linked with the Gulf Islands. The current session of the provincial legislature is studying the Angus Report on redistribution. This report would bring the northern section of Saanich constituency into one with the islands.

Mr. John Tisdalle, Saanich member of the legislature, has expressed sharp criticism of the projected split. We have every sympathy with Mr. Tisdalle. He has been an earnest representative of the constituency for the past many years. It is unquestionably painful to Mr. Tisdalle to see a major change in a community which through his eyes has genuinely integrated. Another voter in that constituency might find it less so.

Redistribution is inevitable. The population is soaring and inequalities are constantly arising. The multiple seats are illogical and cannot be justified. If the new plan will achieve these corrections, it has made a substantial contribution to the well-being of the province.

Gulf Islanders are a separate entity in British Columbia. They have problems which are unknown and unrecognized elsewhere. There is no reason to believe that the islands are more akin to Nanaimo than to Saanich. Their voting trends are certainly closer to Saanich.

We cannot be convinced that either Saanich or the Islands can lose by the redistribution plan. As yet it is difficult to positively recognize any benefit. Nevertheless, if the decision were to be made here, in Saanich constituency, we would cast a ballot in favor of the new program. We would hope for some local benefit, however difficult it might be to recognize, and we would be confident that British Columbia would benefit by it.

Another Great Battle!

IT'S a bit early yet. The celebration of Canada's 100th birthday is not due until next year. We're not celebrating, we're just fighting.

There has not been a good stand-up-and-fight argument like this since our forebears were fighting for confederation.

In every town and city, in every hamlet from coast to coast, Canada is fighting fit. The local picture differs little from that in the east. The senior governments are offering to support local contributions towards centennial monuments. Vast majority of local governments are happy to contribute their share of the total. The fighting is not directed towards the provision of a memorial to a birthday, it is a dispute over the nature of the monument.

On Vancouver Island few communities are quiet. From the capital city, where the current dispute pivots on the form local celebrations shall take next year, to each small community, there is argument and anxiety and dispute. Some, more fortunate parts of the land, have settled their differences and are even now firm in their plans for marking Canada's 100th birthday.

In Central Saanich the picture clouded last week when petitions were circulated protesting decision of the council to proceed with a heated swimming pool.

Undoubtedly, greater effort has been devoted to protest against the project than was given to assisting the committee to reach a decision.

In North Saanich and Sidney, which two municipalities had pooled their resources to find a joint project, dispute arose as to whether the community should contribute more to the centennial project than the minimum required by the national government legislation.

The ultimate answer can be found in the minds of those who celebrate. Is this mark of national unity and maturity worthy of great effort? Do we hail Canada's first centenary as an event befitting great pomp and circumstance, or do we see it as a mild nuisance, threatening the smooth pattern we have drawn, administratively? If the 100th birthday of the confederation of Canada is to be marked as a significant event, could we not make a concerted effort to bury our differences?

The joint committee of North Saanich and Sidney has been working towards the construction of a library building. In an age of rapid development, when increased leisure and greater need for skill are walking hand-in-hand, the project would appear to be a fitting monument to the occasion.

It is up to the committee and councils to thresh out the details without untoward dispute. The project is shared by us all. Any monument to Canada's century must be proudly acclaimed by councillors, committee members and the general public. It is not the private preserve of any one of these three groups, to the exclusion of another.

Communities right across Canada are all facing this problem.

It Ain't What You Do

IT ain't what you do, it's the way that you do it... I ran the lyrics of a popular song some years ago. It is unlikely that the Victoria Symphony Orchestra will offer this particular opus in Sidney on Friday evening. It is equally unlikely that the audience will wholly agree with the sentiments.

On Friday the words will require change. In Sidney it would read, "... it's the where that you do it." Because on Friday evening the concert of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra will be offered in the auditorium of North Saanich secondary school.

The change from Sanscha Hall to high school has been made following a mistake in bookings. It will be an interesting change. A number of changes have been made at the school to achieve better sound.

Concertgoers will enjoy an interesting opportunity of hearing the big city orchestra in a new setting.

The regular Sidney season of symphony is presented for musiclovers here. They must avail themselves of the opportunity or the future will bring a sharp change. No orchestra can afford to play in an empty hall. No concertgoer can afford to let such a condition arise.

Death of Former Sidney Teacher

Well-known resident of Saanichton and former teacher and kindergarten principal in Sidney, Mrs. Anne Elizabeth Heal passed away in Rose Manor Rest Home, Victoria, on Thursday, Jan. 27.

Mrs. Heal was born in Lancashire, England and was educated at Holy Trinity Girls' School in Southport.

In 1912 she came to Canada and taught in Five Acres School at Nanaimo. She moved south and taught at Royal Oak from 1913 until 1916. Later she taught at Sidney for 10 years.

Two sons predeceased her. Gordon Ralph Heal was killed on the Interurban Railway track in 1922. Leslie Earle Heal was lost while hunting in 1944.

Mrs. Heal is survived by a son, Victor, of Saanich; two daughters, Mrs. Vera Page, Cordova Bay and Mrs. Phyllis Ireland, View Royal; nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

She was a member of Victoria Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star and the Order of Amaranth.

Funeral services were observed in McCall Brothers' Funeral Chapel on Saturday, Jan. 29, with Rev. J. Vickers officiating. Interment followed at Royal Oak Burial Park.

the strong opinions now evident were not forthcoming earlier in the discussions."

Reeve Lee took pains to point out to the petitioners that council has authority only to approve or reject the submission of the centennial committee and cannot propose a project itself. The project must come from the local organizations which constitute the centennial committee.

OTHER PROPOSALS

"Therefore it is still up to the centennial committee to make the next move," he said. "We have had letters coming in saying this, that or the other would be a better project, but we have no authority to consider these."

The reeve emphasized that the

Galiano Service Station Sold

Don Robson, popular manager of the Standard Chevron Gas Station at Sturdies Bay, Galiano Island, has sold the station to John Menzies of Vancouver and Galiano.

Mr. Robson operated the station for the past four years and he has lived on Galiano for much of his young life. He will be moving to Vancouver to go into business there. Besides being fire chief for the island, Mr. Robson is an active member of the council of the Galiano Chamber of Commerce, and also a committee member of the Galiano Rod and Gun Club.

Institute Offers Help For Clinic

On February 3 in the Institute Hall, West Saanich Road, Mr. B. J. Johnson, one of the organizers of "Operation Doorstep," will meet the W.I. members to explain to them the help that is needed when the Mobile Tuberculosis Clinic comes to the Hall in March.

It is expected there will be some clerical work and some members have already indicated their willingness to assist. Any volunteers, men or women, who would care to help, may attend at the Hall at 2 p.m. on February 3. Volunteers unable to be at the hall may call the president, Mrs. J. Taxation!
Is taxation out of hand? Do all pay equal and just taxes for the benefits they receive and what they really need?

In the Bible we read of Israel's golden age of prosperity. Solomon, as the wise King, brought peace, trade and commerce into being for his country and made it great. This cost the people much in taxes but they managed.

At Solomon's death his son took over and, ignoring the people and his counselors he increased the taxes in accord with his desires rather than the peoples needs. The result — a divided kingdom.

Lessons taught by history reveal that the cause for the toppling of nations is when the expenses of government become too great for the taxpaying populace. The breaker of homes is the same—the desires for "things" cause such heavy payments that soon the tension mounts, harmony is lost, the material things are repossessed and "fins" is written above the door.

Many would like all the pleasures of a glorious park with swimming pool and all but do we need it for pleasure when hospitals and schools are so crucial and yet the taxpayer has defeated even these essential matters. God has given many wonderful opportunities for pleasure in the great outdoors of our area. Let our youth, and ourselves learn to enjoy these until we can afford the others.

FORMER SIDNEY STUDENT IS WED IN JAMAICAN CHURCH

Former Sidney student was married in November in Jamaica.

Marriage of Ian Buckingham and Miss Joan Allison Wright took place in the University Chapel at Kingston, Jamaica. A graduate of the University of West Indies, the bride is teaching at Jamaica College. The swimming pool project was not a "brainchild of council."

Referring to the questionnaire sent out by council to ratepayers for an opinion of the pool project, the reeve said this was for information only and the result was not binding on council. Council approved the project despite rejection by a vote of 560 to 376 in the unofficial ballot.

Lorne Thomson, a member of the first municipal council in Central Saanich, had the last word.

"I have never seen the public aroused quite so much," he said.

groom is the son of the Rev. William and Mrs. Buckingham of Vancouver.

Rev. Mr. Buckingham was for a number of years minister of St. Paul's United Church in Sidney.

Ian Buckingham attended school here and was employed for one summer at James Island. He is studying medicine and is now in his final year.

The groom's father was present and took part in the ceremony.

The couple will come back to British Columbia this spring, when Mr. Buckingham plans to intern at the Vancouver General Hospital.

DAVID STUPICH, M.L.A.

From Where I Sit Report From Victoria

By DAVID D. STUPICH, M.L.A.

The Speech from the Throne traditionally is the Lieutenant-Governor's message to members of the Legislative Assembly with respect to the measures they will be asked to consider during the session.

However historically it is more a record of things that have happened in the province during the past year, with only suggestions as to legislation that will be introduced. Yesterday's Throne Speech was no exception.

The big excitement this time seems to be the report from the commission appointed to bring in a report on redistribution. Although I have not seen the details as yet, the commission has recommended that most of the Islands part of my riding will be transferred to a new riding.

SAFER SEAT

On the basis of the results of the last provincial election this would make my position more secure by some 500 votes. However I have always enjoyed campaigning on the Islands and meeting the people there. Although the majority of them don't support me politically I will certainly miss campaigning there.

Just one more word on redistribution. Although the commission's report has been introduced, there is still no Bill before the legislature. This Bill, when it arrives, could be radically different from the commission's recommendations.

OTHER MATTERS

Personally I was more interested in two other matters referred to in the Speech from the Throne. Readers of this column may recall that I forecast a provincial surplus of $67 million at the end of the 1965 fiscal year. When the figures were finally released I was very close to the mark.

Surplus in the current financial year will be accumulating at a rate in excess of $5 million per month. The question comes up as to whether the opposition should fight for reductions in taxation or increases in government services. Personally, I feel that the emphasis should be on the latter.

TO EDUCATION

About one month ago I predicted that the Premier would recommend spending some of this surplus on increased expenditures in education. There is much talk these days about the need for vast sums to be spent on higher education, and the Federal Government has recognized this by increasing its grant to the provinces for university training.

However, the real financial load falls upon the property owners who find their taxes going up year by year.

Keep Up To Date—
Read The Review!

year to pay for education up to the university level. The speech from the Throne, in one short sentence, tells us that we will be asked to approve a substantial increase in expenditures for education.

It is my hope that this will mean a new approach to the system of government grants to local school boards, and that the increases forecast in the speech from the Throne will be large enough to enable a reduction in property taxes for school purposes.

MEDICAL PLAN

One further item that I hope the Premier will spend some of this surplus on is improvement in the B.C. Medical Plan. While it is not the sort of medicare that our party has been fighting for, it does make it possible for many people to have medical coverage who could not afford the higher premiums charged by private insurance plans, or who were poor medical risks and as such not acceptable by the private companies. The plan attracted many of our senior citizens in particular because they are not members of medical plans through their employment. However older people especially often run into very high drug bills, and medical coverage without drug provision does not begin to meet their needs. Members of our group hope that the promised amendments to the Medical Grants Act will include provision of prescription drugs, and we will do our utmost to urge this policy upon the government.

Retiring Secretary Is Commended By St. Peter's Church

Annual meeting of St. Peter's church was held in Port Washington Hall, North Pender Island, on Tuesday, Jan. 25, with Bishop M. E. Coleman in the chair.

Reports were read by the honorary secretary, Capt. C. Claxton; Bishop's warden, L. J. Armstrong; and treasurer, Professor H. Grayson-Smith.

A report of the work of the Ladies' Guild was read by Mrs. R. Beech, and a report from Mrs. D. Brook, of the Altar Guild's work, was read by Mrs. N. Grimmer. Mrs. J. Peters, superintendent of the Sunday school, presented her report, which was followed by the vicar's report.

At the conclusion of the business, a special vote of thanks was expressed to Capt. Claxton, for his work as secretary. His resignation as secretary was accepted.

Capt. Claxton was replaced by Mrs. Stephen King. Mr. Armstrong was re-elected Bishop's Warden, and Capt. Beech People's Warden. J. B. Bridge will be auditor and the treasurer, Professor Grayson-Smith, was re-elected for another year.

THE GULF ISLANDS

GANGES

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Andrea, Victoria, spent the weekend at their summer home on Mansell Road. They were accompanied by Mrs. Andrea's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Waters, Vancouver.

Misses Ainslee McQuarrie and Diane Sharp, both students of Salt Spring Island elementary and secondary school, attended the eighth annual Future Teachers' Conference last weekend at the University of British Columbia. Their billets were arranged by Miss Angela Hedgecock, a first year student at UBC, who graduated last year from the Salt Spring school.

Mrs. A. K. Butler, Victoria, was a weekend guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Agar, Harbour House.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Howe, were guests over the weekend at Harbour House before returning to California after spending the winter at their home on Beddis Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Geigerich were visitors last week of Mrs. Geigerich's mother, Mrs. I. B. Devine, Ganges.

Mrs. R. E. Stone and her three children, Diana, Charles and Naomi, who have been spending the past two months with Mrs. Stone's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Shove, leave for Halifax on February 5 where they will join Lieut. Commander Stone who has been posted to Halifax.

Miss Linda Baker returned to Victoria after visiting her mother, Mrs. J. W. Baker, Robinson Road, last weekend.

SALT SPRING

Year's Work Reviewed By United Church Congregation

Salt Spring Island United Church was held in the lower hall of the church in Ganges on Friday, Jan. 28, with Rev. E. W. MacQuarrie in the chair and about 50 members and adherents present.

The meeting was preceded by a pot luck supper, under the supervision of members of the United Church Women. About 60 attended and enjoyed the varied food.

The meeting reflected a year of endeavour.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Accomplishments during the year were contributing to missions; sending money and clothing to Friendship House in Prince Rupert; a student in Hong Kong was aided by a cash donation to further his school education; old nylon stockings were collected to help give employment to Korean war widows; contributed to the Burnaby home for girls; parcels were sent to Goodwill Industries and in many other ways help was given where it was needed both on

AT FULFORD

Vancouver Youth Injured

A Vancouver youth, Paul Miller, 18, of 3546 W. 43rd St., is suffering from injuries received in a motor vehicle accident on Salt Spring Island at 6:30 p.m. on January 29.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Robert Byng-Hall of 3578 W. 43rd St., Vancouver.

The car left the road when it failed to make a right hand turn and landed upside down in St. Mary's Lake, Ganges R.C.M.P. said.

The youth is suffering from concussion and pneumonia and was treated overnight at the Lady Minto Hospital and later transferred to St. Vincent's Hospital in Vancouver.

FABIAN SOCIETY HERE

Education Finance Debated At Sidney Forum

Problems faced in financing education were explored in detail recently at a Sidney conference sponsored by the Fabian Forum of British Columbia.

The two-day conference at the Hotel Sidney was directed by Paul A. Phillips of Cordova Bay and speakers included Professor Gideon Rosenbluth, department of economics, U.B.C., speaking on The Bladen Report; Norman K. Preston, of the B.C. Teachers Federation committee on education finance speaking on Problems of Public School Finance; and E. P. O'Neal, secretary-treasurer of the B.C. Federation of Labor, who discussed Vocational Training and Retraining.

DEMOCRATIC SOCIALISM

Mrs. R. G. Phillips, Cordova Bay, a director of the Fabian Forum which was formed here last fall, said the society will publish the speeches and the conference findings at a later date. The society aims at the establishment of democratic socialism. It seeks to further the promotion of research into political, economic and social problems. The Fabian Forum is a fact-finding society only, Mrs. Phillips said, and expresses no opinions.

Mr. Preston's support of the property tax as a source of education revenue aroused considerable discussion among some 30 persons who attended the conference, and a committee was later appointed by the society to conduct more research into taxation for education, particularly property tax, Mrs. Phillips said.

LOCAL CONTROL DESIRABLE

Basing his arguments on the premise that a large measure of local control in education is desirable and that public acceptance of a much more centralized system is not likely in the foreseeable future, Mr. Preston discussed the pros and cons of property tax.

While noting "many arguments may be marshalled in opposition to the property tax, and more particularly in opposition to its use in support of education," he said, "An impressive list of factors may likewise be cited in favor of the property tax."

STABLE SOURCE

Property tax is a stable source of revenue as the assessment base changes slowly and predictably, and it is therefore well suited to the habitual spending patterns of school districts and is easily adapted to the shocks of capital expenditure, Mr. Preston said.

"Use of this tax in support of education is justified in part by the fact that property derives its value from the general growth and development of the community and should give to education payment in kind for its contribution to that development."

THREE ADVANTAGES

"In traditional thinking, the disadvantages of the property tax have tended to be outweighed by its advantages; primarily by three of them, its stability, its administrative convenience, and the high visibility which makes it suitable as a basis for local responsibility. The conclusion has been that so long as school boards are to have any kind of budgetary control the property tax is the instrument best suited for providing local tax revenues."

Mr. Preston went on to discuss the effect of the B.C. home owner grant in relation to property tax for education.

"The effect of the home owner grant in overcoming the regressive nature of the property tax should now be quite clear. People with incomes of $4,100 or less who are living according to their means pay no local school tax."

NO FOUNDATION

"Since the average annual income of employed persons in B.C. is between $5,000 and $6,000, it would seem that a majority of property owners pay either no local school taxes or only a token. A person who has an annual income of $9,000 should be living quite comfortably these days. A local school tax of $119 is less than his annual light bill and perhaps half what he and his wife spend on tobacco. In such cases the charge that the tax on land for school purposes is unbearable is without foundation," Mr. Preston said.

The home owner grant has now gained a large measure of public acceptance, Mr. Preston said, and it is doubtful at this time whether any change of government would abolish it.

VAST JOB AHEAD

Although there is an increasing awareness of the need for vocational training in B.C. a vast job still lies ahead, the audience was told by Mr. O'Neal.

Vocational training has unfortunately low status, he said.

"Compare a four-year apprentice program to a university degree of similar length, and there is no doubt which rates more prestige. Yet some of this emphasis is misplaced, if the needs of the nation are considered," he said.

Mr. O'Neal noted that an active part in promoting vocational training is played by the federal government although the British North America Act places the responsibility for education on the provinces.

Vocational training and retraining is of vital concern to the adult population as well as students.

NO BREAKTHROUGH

Mr. O'Neal quoted from a report by the Economic Council of Canada: "... programs are having comparatively little effect on the adult labor force... there has not been any significant breakthrough in the training or retraining of existing members of the labour force."

Why? There is a lack of knowledge among the general public, particularly in regard to what courses are available and the pre-requisites; workers, especially unemployed workers, are not being informed and counselled adequately about the need for retraining; inadequate training allowances; scarcity of qualified vocational teachers and the number of teachers being trained is declining rather than increasing; responsibility for the initiation of programs is not clear; provincial and local authorities do not have adequate information regarding developing and future manpower needs.

LITTLE OPPORTUNITY

"Not only are adults relatively neglected," Mr. O'Neal said, "but students just finishing high school have little opportunity to receive training."

Mr. O'Neal pointed out that B.C. falls far behind her sister provinces in financing vocational training.

Per capita, the government of B.C., spending only $12 on vocational facilities, lags far behind the national per capita of $22 and reached only a fraction of Ontario's $44 per person, he said.

POSITIVE STEPS

"Unfortunately, listing inadequacies will not end them. Positive steps must be taken," Mr. O'Neal said, and he cited seven policies: analysis of labour supply and demand; establishment of a single federal-provincial agency to co-ordinate all manpower programs, placement, training, retraining, relocation and research; smoothly expanding economy to provide a strong base for training; free training and allowances; expanded training with industry; expanded vocational training after high school, and opportunity for all.

FREE TRAINING

Training and retraining should be free for all trainees, he said, and there must definitely be no necessity of proving poverty or need, as at present, to qualify for allowances.

"Most basic is government, management and labour recognition of the immense need and value of occupational training, including retraining and upgrading in technical skills," Mr. O'Neal concluded. "Increased emphasis and support must then be given to accelerate effort in this direction."

ACCENT ON BEAUTY

Costume jewellery does more than accentuate the beauty of Canadian women—it is an important export commodity. The Department of Trade and Commerce reports that exports of Canadian jewellery surpassed the $1,000,000 mark in 1964.

FIRE HAZARDS UNDER FIRE AS INSPECTION PLANNED

Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an inspection of business district buildings by insurance company field representatives on March 1 to stamp out fires before they get a chance to start.

A team of insurance company inspectors and technical experts from the Canadian Underwriters Association from Vancouver and Victoria will conduct a blitz inspection to point out to businessmen potential fire hazards which could have flaming repercussions for themselves and neighboring businessmen.

Insurance executive Warren F. McWilliams of Victoria is co-ordinating the inspection along with Chamber president Frank Richards and Sidney insurance agent John Bruce. Mr. McWilliams said the B.C. insurance industry has conducted similar programs in Hope, Nanaimo, Princeton, Campbell River, Courtenay and Port Coquitlam.

HE IS UNAWARE
"No businessman wants to endanger his property or that of others," said Mr. McWilliams, "but in many cases there is great risk of fire of which the proprietor is unaware."

Mr. McWilliams pointed out that inflammable liquids, defective appliances, and general poor house-

BIG CHANGES AHEAD

New President Of Sanscha Sets Aggressive Pattern

Aggressive pattern of operation set by Alan Spooner during his two years at the helm of Sanscha promises to be continued.

On Monday evening Frank Minns called for a meeting of his new executive at as early an opportunity as possible. He outlined the program he has already in mind.

Sidney Day is in need of revamping, he stated. His associates will be invited to change the day in order that local stores may be open during the day, providing visitors with facilities beyond those at the memorial park.

Sanscha is not owned by anybody, he reminded the meeting.

RUN FOR COMMUNITY

"It is a community organization run by the community for the community," he stated.

The new president wants a number of features undertaken this year.

The accent is on youth. Mr. Minns called for a greater use of the recreation centre by the youngsters of the district.

He described the stage as a complete mess. "All we have is a large building with a platform," he observed, "We should build a large stage and look after the acoustics."

GET A STAGE

He urged his audience to get a stage and then bring visiting entertainment groups here.

Big project facing the association is to pay off its bonds. The debt on the hall must be paid off, he told members.

The grounds are another big problem, he warned. Mr. Minns asked for a full meeting of directors next Monday evening. Problems facing the association must be settled shortly, he reminded members.

NO SERIOUS FIRES ON GALIANO

Annual meeting of the Galiano Volunteer Fire Department was held in the Galiano Hall on January 26.

Fire Chief Don Robson reported there were three alarms turned in during the past year, none of them serious. Ten practices were held, and the fire truck logged 59.5 miles. A new fire siren has been installed on a 50-foot pole.

Five new pieces of equipment added during the year were one first-aid kit, four radar-lights, and one, one-horsepower siren. A new Mark 3 Wajax pump and a 250-gallon water relay tank were supplied by MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Co., for the use of the volunteers along with their other equipment.

Secretary-treasurer Ches Williams reported a total of $233.60 now on hand, including a cheque received from the Standard Oil Company in Vancouver.

A vote of thanks was given to all of the volunteers for their work during the past year, and to the ladies who also assisted with money-raising functions. A special vote of thanks was given to the fire chief who is leaving the Island soon. Mr. Robson was one of the leading sparks to get the fire department going three years ago.

The new executive were elected for the coming year, with the fire chief to be named at a later date. Elected were Fred Robson, George Georgeson, Chester Williams, Bill Kolosoff and Bob Bambrick.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH HEARS OF ADVANCES IN ALL AREAS

St. Paul's United Church has grown in the past year in membership, financial strength, choir members and in organizations, annual meeting of the church was told on Monday.

There are two good choirs, senior and junior, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bunt.

A CGIT was formed under the direction of Mrs. Douglas Miller and 15 girls are participating.

The meeting voiced appreciation to the various people who have given loyal and faithful service.

Two people, Mrs. F. Reid, who attends to the secretarial work of the church, and Mrs. S. Roberts, envelope secretary, were singled out for special thanks.

A vote of thanks was extended to Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Whitmore by Jack Pedlow for their leadership in the congregation during the past year.

The Clerk of Session, Neil Reimer, also expressed deep appreciation of Mr. Whitmore in his report. The minister is retiring at the end of June after 40 years' service to the church.

Mrs. Whitmore answered to the vote of thanks and said how much they had enjoyed working with the congregation and as the community was growing that they should go forward and plan for the erection of a new church.

Mr. Whitmore conducted a short memorial service for those who had died during the past year. The following were remembered: Miss J. A. Moir, Mrs. E. Freeman, Miss M. Campbell, Mrs. M. L. Ferguson, W. Blythe, C. L. Hayward, W. A. Munro, W. Bickford and E. T. Edwards.

Elected as Elders to the session were F. Reid, G. Smith, T. Griffiths and F. Aldridge. Stewards elected were: Mrs. S. Roberts, D. MacKinnon, O. Wiggins and C. A. Wright. George Howard was elected congregational representative to the visitation committee.
